

“Without hesitation, I recommend this publication to anyone who is faced with the responsibility of dividing the material assets of a parent. It is a practical and common-sense approach to making a very difficult task much easier.”

—Terrell W. Benton, Jr., Hall, Booth, Smith and Slover, PC, Attorneys at Law

“I speak for my whole family when I tell you how thankful we are to you for helping us with the settlement of Mom’s estate through your wonderful plan that you now call The Settlement Game...I would recommend this to anyone who cares about protecting healthy, loving relationships among siblings or other family members. I can see how this could be responsible for transforming an otherwise negative and difficult process into a most joyful and pleasant relationship builder.”

—Mrs. Billy Florence (Peggy), Florence Enterprises

Practical Advice for a Trying Time

You’ve probably heard the horror stories—how families are sometimes torn apart by hard feelings stemming from the inequitable division of estates. Dividing an estate fairly may sound easy, but in fact very few people know how to do it. Because of this, an event that should be dedicated to remembering good times and paying honor to the deceased often becomes a time of strife and divisiveness, resulting in bad feelings that can sometimes last a lifetime. Now, there is a resource that helps you avoid such conflicts. Angie Epting Morris’s The Settlement Game provides clear, useful advice about how to divide the family estate of deceased parents in a fair and peaceful manner.

The Settlement Game provides you with:

- A proven system for dividing all items in an estate in a fair, peaceful manner
- An analysis of personality types that can help you avoid conflict
- Useful, practical advice on how to deal with the deceased’s credit cards, insurance policies, Social Security, etc.
- Handy forms you can photocopy to keep track of items and miscellaneous expenses

The Settlement Game is truly a practical and an invaluable resource for those who are dealing with one of life’s most difficult yet inevitable moments.

ORDER ONLINE AT www.thesettlementgame.com

Please make your check payable and return to:

BookMasters, Inc.
30 Amberwood Parkway
Ashland, OH 44805

Call your credit card order to
(800) 247-6553

Fax (419) 281-6883
order@bookmasters.com
www.atlasbooks.com

YES, I want to order this useful and important book. Send me _____ copies of The Settlement Game: How to Settle an Estate Peacefully and Fairly at $14.95 plus $4.95 each for shipping and handling. (Ohio residents add $1.08 sales tax per book.)

Name _____ Phone _____

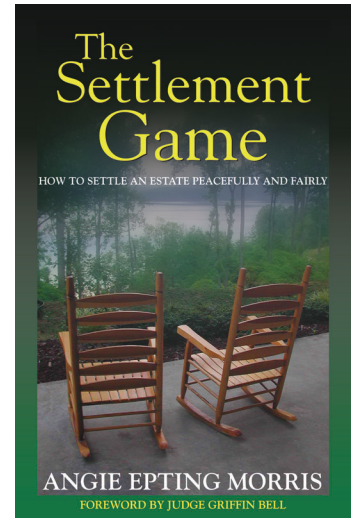

Organization _____ Email _____

Address _____

City/State/Zip _____

My check or money order for $ _____ is enclosed • Charge my: VISA MasterCard

Card number _____ Exp _____ Signature _____

The Settlement Game
How to Settle an Estate
Peacefully and Fairly

by Angie Epting Morris

144-page original trade paperback

ISBN 0-9769934-2-2

$14.95 plus $4.95 S/H

BookMasters, Inc.

30 Amberwood Parkway

Ashland, OH 44805

Call credit card orders to

1-800-247-6553

fax 419-281-6883